

Aerial™ iExchange

What if you could streamline UM communications to improve efficiency, engagement and satisfaction?

As the rolls of insured people grow and an aging population presents multiple health issues, the need for accurate and efficient utilization management (UM) has never been more vital. Unfortunately, traditional manual processes are time-intensive, error-prone and, experts say, unsuited to the demands of value-based care.

The Aerial™ iExchange physician portal was created to automate and streamline the cumbersome UM process. This secure, web-based tool for bidirectional communications reduces the need for manual interaction with a call center and helps create the collaborative payer-provider relationships essential to effective care management and shared-risk models.

Enable your healthcare providers to quickly and easily submit inpatient and outpatient authorizations, referrals and treatment updates using a secure, bidirectional web portal.

Free up time so physicians can focus on patient care.

Timely processing of authorizations increases patient satisfaction.

Among its many functionalities and benefits, Aerial iExchange does the following:

- Provides expedited data entry, reducing the time and expense associated with paper, telephone and fax processes.
- Enables tracking of authorization status and automatically routes pending cases to clinical reviewers for quick resolution.
- Incorporates multi-payer capabilities that allow providers to submit requests to various payers with a consistent workflow experience, eliminating the need to train users on different payer technical systems.
- Provides access to the Aerial Health Summary, which includes a view into member participation in case or disease management programs.

Just one of many apps in Medecision's state-of-the-art Aerial Population Health Management portfolio, iExchange helps organizations of all shapes and sizes to drive clinical and financial success.

Aerial iExchange enables web-based, real-time processing of inpatient and outpatient authorizations, referrals and treatment updates.

Learn more about how Aerial can help you manage clinical and financial risk with confidence

610-540-0202 | info@medecision.com | medecision.com